

Northumberland County Blind Association
Supporting blind and partially sighted people

NoISe

Issue 93
Winter 2015

NoISe (Northumberland Information Service for People with Vision Impairment) is the quarterly newsletter of the Northumberland County Blind Association.

Northumberland County Blind Association named as Bamburgh Castle Charity of the Year 2016

We are delighted to be named as Bamburgh Castle Charity of the Year for 2016. Bamburgh Castle Director, Chris Calvert said: "The Armstrong Family feel it is important that local charities are supported by local business and over the last few years Bamburgh Castle has supported several of the County's charitable organisations. After receiving some information through the post about the NCBA we decided that we should support the Association and the work it does in Northumberland. We look forward to working with the team in Morpeth to raise funds and help improve the experiences that blind and partially sighted people receive in Northumberland."

Acting NCBA Chair, Ian Steele said: "We are delighted to receive the support of the Armstrong Family and look forward to working with everyone at Bamburgh Castle in the New Year."

Helping local people with sight loss get online

In September we held our first Online Today information session – an RNIB project that aims to help people with a sensory loss get online using laptops, tablets (Android and Apple), smartphones and eBook readers.

Eleven people attended the session all wanting to learn more about new technologies that can help them make the most of using the internet. Mr Thompson said: “I found the information and demonstrations really helpful. I didn’t think I could use these devices thinking they would be unsuitable for someone with my degree of sight loss, but now I know I too can use a smartphone or tablet by turning on the accessibility options such as the VoiceOver or Zoom features on an iPad and iPhone.”

David Brown, RNIB Online Today Co-ordinator said: We welcome the opportunity of working with local sight loss organisations. The session at NCBA offices was a very good meeting with a particularly responsive and engaging bunch of people. Everyone who attended really wanted to learn and understand the difference these devices could make to their lives; we hope the session gave people the confidence, knowledge and skills to use these technologies. We look forward to working with the team at NCBA in holding more events throughout Northumberland in the coming months.”

We plan to hold another session in the Alnwick area in the New Year, so if you would like to attend or perhaps suggest where we can hold one near where you live, please get in touch with us.

Northumberland student shines at achievement awards

Success at The Royal National College for the Blind (RNC) comes in many guises. For some, it is recognition of academic achievement. For others, it is progress made in a particular sport or craft. For every student at RNC, success also means independence and confidence in daily skills that people with full sight may often take for granted.

A number of nominated awards were granted to students in honour of their work and commitment in the last academic year at the College's annual Celebration of Achievement on Thursday 22 October 2015. Students from every course area were commended for their achievements and enjoyed a frank and inspiring talk from former RNC student Josh Feehan, who told a familiar tale of a rapid decline in vision and the need to get used to being a blind person in a sighted world.

“We are very lucky to be blind and partially sighted people in this day and age,” said Josh. “I wouldn't be where I am today without having come to RNC. We are just as capable as people who are able-bodied. Remember to do your thing!”

Josh's encouragement to students for preparing for the world of work was timely, as Kieran Little (from Blyth, Northumberland) was awarded the inaugural Cisco Award by Neil Smith, Global Leader for Licensed Small Cell, and Andrew Smith of the Open University.

The Cisco Networking Academy was launched in September 2014 and Kieran demonstrated an aptitude for the course from the outset. He was surprised on stage when Neil Smith announced that, as part of winning the award, he also gains a work placement at Cisco to enhance his networking career prospects.

Professor Tamar Thompson, Chair of the Board of Governors, praised the students in her closing address, saying: “It is because of your dedication to your programmes that I thank you for making RNC the success it is.”

Work of The Royal National College (RNC)

The Royal National College for the Blind (RNC) is the UK’s leading specialist residential college of further education for people with a visual impairment. Since 1872, they have been building on their expertise and successes, which enable the College to offer a variety of products and services to a diverse audience. In addition to educational opportunities they also offer specialist training and support to businesses, universities and other education providers, and specialist professionals working with visually impaired people.

Helping you with your tax

RNIB has a free and confidential service to help people with sight loss with tax issues. RNIB staff can guide you through the tax allowances, benefits and concessions you may be entitled to and which products are exempt from VAT. The following is a summary of personal tax allowances available for the current tax year 2015-16.

Personal Allowance

The amount of tax free income you can have in a year is called your personal allowance. The standard personal allowance for most people is £10,600. If you were born before 6 April 1938, you may be entitled to the age-related allowance which is £10,660.

Blind Person's Allowance

People registered blind or severely sight impaired can claim an additional allowance called the Blind Person's Allowance. The allowance is £2,290 which can reduce your tax by up to £458 this year. You can transfer the Blind person's Allowance to your husband, wife or civil partner if you cannot make use of it all. Claims can be backdated for up to four years if you were registered blind or severely sight impaired during that time.

Married Couple's Allowance

Married Couple's Allowance could reduce your tax bill by £835 a year if you're married and if one of you was born before 6 April 1935.

Marriage Allowance

The new Marriage Allowance allows you to transfer some of your Personal Allowance to your spouse if you were both born on or after 6 April 1935. This may reduce your partner's tax by up to £212.

Tax on savings interest

You may qualify for tax free interest on your savings if your taxable income is less than £15,600. It can be more than this if you get the Blind Person's Allowance, Married Couple's Allowance or Marriage Allowance.

Further information – to find out what you can claim call RNIB on 0845 330 4897 or 0151 702 5721. There is more information on the GOV.UK website at: www.gov.uk.

Welcome to new team member at NCBA

Susan Bennett – Volunteer Co-ordinator

Susan is the newest member of staff to join the team at NCBA working alongside Antonietta and Trevor as part of the Key Communications Project.

Susan's background is in Nursing and Social Work with people with a learning difficulty. Susan also has experience supporting people with a visual impairment and is registered partially sighted herself, which she feels will help her to understand and relate to service users.

Susan said: " NCBA volunteers play an important part in people's lives and they are a real asset to the service. I am looking forward to working closely with all volunteers and supporting them on a daily basis.

Volunteers play such a crucial role in all areas of NCBA work, by helping to reduce social isolation through the home visiting service for example, or helping out with fundraising events to driving people to support groups and appointments."

Northumberland Low Vision Action Group

It has been some time since NOISE printed an article on the work the Low Vision Action Group (NAG) has been carrying out. Many readers may have thought that the Group is no longer in existence. I can assure you that this is not the case and we have recently had some notable successes in improving life for the visually impaired in Northumberland. We now have a web site where you can get up to date information on what we have been doing. Visit us on www.nagvip.co.uk.

We have spent some time in cultivating connections with Northumberland County Council and are hopeful we can move them towards a total ban on advertising boards (commonly known as A Boards) on the pavements in our town centres. Those of you living in Morpeth will have noticed fewer A Boards. A survey undertaken 18 months ago showed that there were 104 A Boards on the three main streets in the town; at the last spot check this was down to 63. A great reduction I hope you will agree. We will continue to campaign until sight impaired residents can walk freely and unobstructed around their shopping areas. NAG with the support of RNIB and Guide Dogs raised awareness of this issue by taking the Local Councillor responsible for Adult Care together with Morpeth MP Ian Lavery on a blindfold walk round Morpeth. Ian Lavery said it was the most worthwhile thing he had done since becoming an MP.

Sometimes, results take time but recently, a pole in the middle of the pavement at the Wellway roundabout in Morpeth was removed within two weeks following a discussion with the Highways Department. There is a similar obstacle in Loansdean and this has been reported. So watch this space (literally).

We have regular discussions with BID Services Northumberland who provide the rehabilitation and other services for VIPs. They have had over 400 referrals in their first nine months of operation, which highlights the growing number of people who need help, particularly as we are an ageing population. Contact Pat Martin, email: pat.martin@bidnorthumberland.org.uk if you need assistance.

Over the last few months we have been working with the Highways Manager and his team over the problems of street clutter, overhanging branches, audible crossings, dropped curbs, pavement parking etc. They are currently carrying out a street audit throughout the County and we will get more information in the New Year. NAG is continually striving to impress upon the relevant council officers how day to day access issues can and should be remedied for the benefit of all Northumberland residents.

We encourage our members to be active, to take every opportunity to raise awareness of the difficulties of living with sight loss and suggest simple solutions to serious problems. Many of our members who belong to other organisations do just this. For example, one of our members raised, at board level the fact that people with low vision cannot read/see the signage at the new emergency hospital in Cramlington. It was also raised at the recent Healthwatch AGM and we understand it is under review.

Our vice chairman, Chris Grethe recently had a meeting with Ann-Marie Trevelyan the new MP for Berwick allowing him to raise a variety of issues ranging from accessibility problems through to welfare benefits. She also did a blindfolded walk to help better understand the difficulties. At our last NAG meeting her political agent attended in order to obtain information on our views on pavement parking in advance of the forthcoming debate in Parliament where Ann-Marie intends to raise the issue.

We continue to campaign for talking buses to be extended to all parts of the region through members participating in NEAT, North East Accessible Transport Group. Some of our members have joined their GP patient participation groups and use these opportunities to raise issues and difficulties our members have with accessible healthcare.

We are supported in our endeavours by the RNIB's campaign officer Lucy Dixon and Guide Dogs' engagement officer Linda Oliver who attend each meeting and their help and advice is invaluable.

So there it is; a snapshot of our activities. It is very satisfying to be directly involved in these campaigns and not just stand by on the sideline. Make your voice heard. So If you feel the same contact John Anderson on 01670503782, Alison Murray on 07921854832, Chris Greateh 07813507560 or Bob Potter 01434 600097.

Next year we will be meeting on the third Thursday of each month often at Reiver House starting at 2.00pm - the next meeting is on Thursday 18th February 2016. We would love to see you.

Fun and informative trip to Carlisle Park, Morpeth

It was very interesting to read Brian Harles article in the last issue of NOISE on the life and legacy of William Turner who is called the father of English Botany. He was a native of Morpeth and we should be proud of the part he played in the naming of plants.

You can enjoy William Turners success by visiting the gardens in Carlisle Park. Recently Bloomers Gardening Group (which meets on the third Friday of each month) arranged a conducted tour around the gardens in Morpeth. Emma Evans who is the Green Spaces Officer also brought her friend Ruth Cuevas who is a specialist Botanist and Herbalist based in Morpeth. The tour was informative, enlightening and humorous. Can I encourage you to make a visit. You may need a sighted person to read the small print on the description labels explaining what the herbs were used for. Particularly the one medieval ladies used to increase their figure sizes.

If you want to know more about herbal medicine you can contact Ruth on hadadvende.herbs@gmail.com. If you want to enjoy the companionship of other like minded gardeners contact John Anderson on 01670 503782 - Happy Gardening.

Bringing services together to support people with a visual impairment in Northumberland

We held another successful Open Day back in September bringing together suppliers of low vision aids and sight loss organisations such as Blind Veterans UK and the Macular Society. The event was well attended giving local people the opportunity to speak with representatives about their services. People took the opportunity to try out some of the latest products and technologies including the latest electronic video magnifiers and magnification software. We look forward to holding a similar event in the Spring at Reiver House.

Living with Age-Related Macular Degeneration (AMD)

Do you have macular degeneration and live in the Berwick area? We would like to relaunch our Berwick upon Tweed support group in the Spring.

Why not come along to a free event on Friday 19 February 2016, 1pm to 3pm at Berwick Baptist Church, Golden Square, TD15 1BG. You will hear more about the condition, useful hints and tips and meet others with central vision loss.

There will be stands with information and a gadget and lighting display from NCBA and the Macular Society. Tea, coffee and biscuits from 1pm to 1.30pm.

For more information call Michelle Dutton on 0161 491 6081 if you would like to attend or for further information.

Fundraising news

We had a fantastic turn out at our Christmas Fayre in November. The fayre was opened by the Mayor of Morpeth, Councillor Alison Byard. We raised a magnificent £604.00 and would like to thank everyone who attended on the day and to all of the stall holders for their time and hard work.

Running to support Northumberland County Blind Association – Great North Run 2016

Volunteer Dawn Watson is taking part in the Great North Run 2016 to raise funds for NCBA. Dawn is severely sight impaired and “can do things that sighted people do.” Dawn said: “ When I first moved to Morpeth I didn’t have much confidence and determination but I got help from NCBA. They helped me to learn to travel on public transport and trained me how to use a long cane. I can now travel with confidence on buses and trains. I do occasional volunteering for NCBA and I want to help them even more by taking part in the Great North Run.” Dawn will be supported by good friends Katie and Lee Robinson. Lee will be Dawn’s sighted guide on the day and Katie will help with all the training. If you would like to pledge your support by making a donation to help Dawn raise funds for NCBA please contact us on 01670 514316 or email: info@ncba.org.uk
